

We can save you energy and money—often without the need for capital expenditure!

Local government is faced with the challenge of providing a diverse range of services to a growing population. Often staff are pressed for time and resources, and so opportunities for savings are missed.

JCM Solutions has helped a number of local governments to save large amounts of energy (and money) across the entirety of their operations.

JCM HAS SPECIFIC EXPERTISE IN

- Pumping stations
- Water and wastewater treatment
- Administration buildings
- Libraries and other public buildings
- Aquatic Centres

JCM's extensive experience in providing energy audits to a wide range of industries makes us ideally suited to assisting local government.

We can often help you save money and energy by using existing equipment more efficiently, rather than by having to make large capital outlays. We know adding to capital expenditure budgets can be difficult for councils.

By using this strategy in many audits in local government we have delivered major savings for all our clients.

On average, our local government clients have achieved:

- 21% savings on power bills
- 14% reduction in site electricity use
- 21% less gas usage

WHY JCM SOLUTIONS IS THE RIGHT CHOICE:

- We understand how local government works and what your concerns and priorities are
- We use our expertise and real-world experience to suggest tailored no-cost and low-cost energy-saving opportunities
- We understand the time and cost pressures you work under, so we aim to help you to make informed decisions for your sites and to maintain your delivery of services
- We bring innovative and high-level thinking to find workable solutions
